

Strategic Signs Letter of Intent for A320's

02 April 2009

STRATEGIC Airlines announced today the signing of a Letter of Intent for two Airbus A320 aircraft. These latest additions form the inaugural fleet for Australia's newest airline.

Strategic's Commercial Manager, Mr. Simon Moore said "We are in the final stages of negotiations to secure the aircraft. The A320's will enable Strategic to provide a great passenger charter option, both within Australia and overseas."

The highly regarded and extremely reliable CFM powered aircraft offer more flexibility. Strategic's Airbus A320's will have a range of approximately six hours which allows clients the ability to reach more destinations throughout the region.

Strategic's aircraft will be used for charter operations, as well as fulfilling additional contract obligations alongside Strategic's flagship, the Airbus A330.

Mr Moore said that Strategic is scheduled to take delivery of the A320's in June and July this year.

Strategic has also released its new livery which will be displayed on each of their aircraft. The livery reflects Strategic's recently released corporate brand.

With the launch of the airline approaching, Strategic has shortlisted both Brisbane and Melbourne as contenders for the basing of its headquarters, which will accommodate their fleet, maintenance and personnel. Strategic is expecting to double its employees to two hundred over the next twelve months.
